Inam is a premier pharmaceutical company that specializes in the development and manufacturing of unique and scientifically advanced formulations for both human and veterinary use. Inam has directed their research to the discovery of new compounds that have been validated by pre-clinical studies. These compounds are then developed into new medicines. Since its inception, Inam has made many breakthroughs in the industry and reignited interest for medical innovation. This includes introducing a series of products such as: anti-diabetic drug, amyloidosis drug, barbiturate anesthesia drug, antipyretic pain reliever, narcotic cough suppressant. Inam's research achievements have been published in many international medical journals. It is often cited by foreign scholars as one of the best examples of Pakistan's pharmaceutical industry. Inam Danish has played a key role in implementing projects to improve public health system in Pakistan. Their work with the Government of Pakistan helped develop an effective drug distribution system that promotes health care throughout the country. The Government of Pakistan has recognized Inam Danish for its contribution to the local community. In recognition for their achievements, Inam Danish received several awards and honors including:

For over five decades, Inam Danish has served the Pakistani people by offering high-quality medical services at competitive prices. The company has achieved a reputation for providing products of superior quality and unmatched service. Inam Danish is one of the few companies that provide 100% foreign currency-based payment to doctors for their services. Inam Danish also provides free medicines to the poor patients, many of whom have no medical insurance. Inam Danish hopes to alleviate poverty by providing free medicines to the under-privileged patients. Inam Danish Development Foundation (IDF) was established in 2008 with a mission to alleviate poverty in Pakistan through healthcare and education programs. IDF's mission is ambitious due to the large needs in both sectors, and consequently it provides a lot of coordination between local and international companies that can assist them achieve it. They are connected to several funding institutions including The Rockefeller Foundation. The main project of IDF is the provision of free medicines to the poor patients. Apart from this, they also assist the public health system by preparing research reports, writing articles for international journals, and conducting study tours to overseas institutions. The foundation has therefore focused its efforts on education, while providing free medical benefits to the deserving patients. IDF helps children get education through scholarships and offers social services such as food-for-work programs. They also provide financial support for other health care programs in Pakistan such as vaccination campaigns, connecting pregnant women to ambulances during delivery season, and HIV testing. Inam Danish Development Foundation is the world's only development organization that is solely focused on pharmaceutical and medical research and development. The foundation's latest project is the establishment of the new medical college in Karachi, Pakistan. The new college is expected to double its student population and will provide a definitive solution to the country's healthcare challenges. The Inam Danish Development Foundation was established with a mission to provide free medicines to the needy patients in Pakistan. Apart from providing free medicines, Inam also conducts awareness campaigns for women's health issues, fights against social ills such as drug abuse, and assists victims of natural disasters such as earthquakes or tsunamis.
